Women Wearing Gymslips

The history of netball can be traced to the early development of basketball. A year after basketball was invented in 1891, the sport was modified for women to accommodate social conventions regarding their participation in sport, giving rise to women’s basketball. Variations of women’s basketball arose across the United States and in England.

Gymslip Wikipedia
April 20th, 2019 - A gymslip is a sleeveless tunic with a pleated skirt most commonly seen as part of a school uniform for girls. The term gymslip primarily refers to the school uniform; otherwise, the term pinafore dress (British English) or jumper dress (American English) is usually preferred. The introduction of the gymslip as female athletic wear is credited to Mary Tait, a student of Martina Bergman.
